

Commentary

The market remained mostly short throughout the day, however there were brief periods spread out through the day that were long. Trades were required for Margin in the late afternoon and early evening. BM Actions managed thermal export constraints across Scotland and voltage imports across England throughout the day. BM Actions and Trades assisted with overnight Voltage Control. BM Actions managed System Inertia.